

Glenn Hall III

The ASCAP Foundation Louis Prima Award

Glenn Hall III is a 16 yr old music lover and Senior at McDonogh 35 College Preparatory High School in New Orleans who also attends The New Orleans Center for Creative Arts (NOCCA). Glenn began playing the trumpet when he was 6 years old following in the footsteps of several of his cousins including Troy "Trombone Shorty" Andrews, James "Satchmo" Andrews and Glen David Andrews. Glenn pursued his studies as a jazz musician by attending several summer programs such as the Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong Summer Music Camp, Project Prodigy and the Donald Harrison Camp. He also studies classical music with Ron Benko and was a member of the New Orleans Youth Orchestra. Glenn is the leader of the New Orleans group "Baby Boyz Brass Band." Glenn writes and arranges music for schools around the city and also teaches music at Roots of Music, a music education program in New Orleans.

The ASCAP Foundation Louis Prima Award was established by his wife Gia and her friends and long-time Counsel at Riker Danzig Scherer Hyland & Perretti LLP to honor Louis' legac . The award is presented to a talented vocalist or musician attending the New Orleans Center for the Creative Arts.